by Myron Pullen

155 votes were cast at the Omnilore Annual Meeting and Luncheon on October 30th to determine which of the four owl images submitted in the Logo Contest should be decided as the winner. The winning entry, displayed above, was chosen by 41% of the votes cast. This image in this form, or in possibly a modified (resized, colorized, bolder lines, etc.) version, will now become the official Omnilore Logo to be used in future correspondence, art work, and the web site. Our thanks to George Clark for submitting the winning entry.

Have You Toured the Special 1864 Greek Revival Mansion in Wilmington?

by Laurel Spillane

You say you've never really explored historical Delaware? No need for that cross-country trip. Just do what the Omnilore California History S/DG members did on December 9th [2009] – tour the home of General Phineas Banning, the father of the Port of Los Angeles. Our docent tour leader, Leo Moore, a very knowledgeable history buff, did an excellent job of emphasizing Banning's accomplishments and how they contributed to Southern California's growth. We also toured the 23-room home in all its Victorian holiday grandeur, then went down to the water's edge to see where Banning's wharf had been built and to peer at a bit of today's port. Our thanks to classmate Margaret Ellis for making the arrangements. We highly recommend that you carve out an afternoon to explore a historical treasure in our own backyard; for details, go to www.banningmuseum.org

Dickens in Real Time!

by Edith Garvey

At the last “Dickens” meeting in December, we took turns explaining which character in our reading of David Copperfield we would most like to meet.

Here are two class members who threw themselves into the assignment whole-heartedly! Edith Garvey (left), who, as Peggoty, is ready to clean the house, and Blanche Herring, as Mr. Dick, who is going to work on his forever ongoing Memorial.

MOV Class Gets Into The Spirit(s)!

Presenter Eleanor Weaver gave the Romantic Comedy Movie class a real treat on February 11th [2009]. In order to set the ambiance of the movie, Arthur, she brought “drinks” and champagne glasses for our break just before her excellent presentation. We toast Eleanor for her enhancement to the MOV class!

“Drinks” consisted of a choice between Ginger Ale or Lime Soda

KUDOS FOR LORI
